Baroni Designs, designer of beaded and sterling silver jewelry, announced that the proceeds from their breast cancer awareness collection were presented to the Humboldt Community Breast Health Project, a community resource of support and education for those facing a breast health concern or a diagnosis of breast or gynecologic cancer. Baroni Designs introduced the collection, which includes a bracelet and two charm necklaces, in August. Proceeds to date have exceeded $1,350, which has now been presented to HCBHP. HCBHP plans to use the money for providing client services free of charge to women with breast and gynecologic cancer. Sarah Baroni, co-owner of Baroni Designs, said of the donation,

"We are grateful and humbled to have worked with Dawn Elsbree and the Humboldt Community Breast Health Project. We owe a lot to this community and we are pleased to have been able to give back in some way."

"We are thrilled that Baroni Designs chose us as the recipient of the proceeds from their breast cancer awareness collection," said Dawn Elsbree, executive director of HCBHP. "It's a dream come true to have a business call and pledge their support in such a way. Thank you to Baroni Designs for being so generous and for caring about women with breast cancer."
